Comment in Berlin Is That British Premier Held Out Olive Branch.

GOSSIP ABOUT TERMS.

Points on Which Both Sides Are Said to Have Shifted Attitude.

By Carl W. Ackerman.

BERLIN, April 12 .- The end of the nearer by significant developments

Bethmann-Hollweg's speech reached sensation. Disregarding certain belligerent phrases, well-informed Germans interpreted Asquith's speech as a frank hint that the time is drawing near when England will be willing to enter peace discussions. For the first time since the beginning of the war the English Premier, as Germans interpret his speech, modified his demand that Prussian militarism must be crushed. When he substituted for this the statement that German "military caste" must not in the future guide Germany's international policies Germans believe that he executed a complete backdown.

Germans assert that the so-called 'military caste" was not in the diplomatic saddle before the war, and that the Chancellor's recent victory NEW BRITISH SHIP over the von Tirpitz faction is evidence that the element Asquith professes to fear has not gained control of Germany's foreign policies. The Hollweg and Asquith statend unofficial utterances, indicate that poace prospects are taking shape long the lines indicated in the folowing subdivisions:

Indemnities-Both Germany and ingland apparently have abandoned he idea of making the enemy pay for Beigium-The allies demand res-ration and complete independence f Belgium. Germany agrees to this, provided that Belgium does not disriminate against Germany after the Poland-Germany insists that conquered Polish territory shall not be durned to the Czar. Ruesia pledges utonomy for the Poles. In the face of German claims England and France are stient on the future of Poland.

Raftle provinces and other Russian erritory held by the Austro-Germans. Germany insists that none of this erritory shall be surrendered to the Czor. The allies are silent on this point.

Few persons in Berlin believe that the allies will enter peace discussions until they have attempted another of-fensive in the west. But the most reent developments support the state-ment made by a high German Gov-rnment official that the war may end autumn, and the recent declaration hat the end of the war is in sight.
